

Team Members (Student number):

- Adam Delfs (43151877) ; Isabella Mendoza (82396763) ; Jolo Sesbreno (85456473)

Project Description:

- Our website will represent an online discussion forum where registered users can discuss on any moderated topic that they choose. Similar to sites like Reddit, any user can search, filter, and view discussion threads; with registered users being able to post their own content and comment on other content!

Requirements List:

- Registration features for unregistered users.
 - Create an account using information that will be stored: name, username, email, password, etc.
- Login/Logout features for registered users.
 - Using common login information: username/email, password.
 - “Forget Password” feature that allows users to reset password via email.
- Registered users can view and edit their profile.
 - Can change information taken during registration.
- Special administration account based on user login and account type (admin account).
 - Special permission for admin accounts: search for users, delete certain content, and view website usage data.
- Unregistered users can still search for and view content, but can’t make their own content or comment on other content.
- Registered users have the ability to search and view content, and will have the ability to create and post their own content or comment on other user-posted content.
- Posts can be filtered by category (i.e. by topic, post date) or searched using keywords by registered and unregistered users regardless of account type